

MISSION 4 - DEBRIEFING

Read after completing the mission!

During the battle of Goose Green, probably the fiercest land battle of the Falkland's conflict, the argentinians flew various air support missions both from the mainland and from the island itself. The first sortie of the day for the Aermacchis was unsuccessful, as they were called back due to the poor visibility in the target area.