Situation

Allied forces are making slow, but steady progress here in the region. The main battle front has shifted north towards the town of Jahrom located Southwest of the insurgent camp you engaged last mission. You are now stationed at FARP Rome which is much closer to the front lines. Given our relative unfamiliarity with this region of Iran, we need the Griffins to scout the area and report back your findings so Lieutenant Colonel Nolan can assign proper tasking to whatever targets you uncover.

Follow your planned route and listen to your radio for additional instructions throughout the flight.

Blue Task

Reconnoiter the general area North of FARP Rome.

Your flight begins with battlefield reconnaissance at WP01 where our ARTY batteries are engaging a small resistance faction. Your flight needs to get over there and provide a SITREP.

We also have several J-TAC squads tracking insurgent activity so be prepared to assist where needed. Pay attention to radio traffic.

MISSION: Patrol flight.
